3. DESCRIÇÃO DO PROJETO

Nome do Projeto:	Projeto "Avaliação da Conservação das espécies arbóreas brasileiras para a Avaliação Global de Árvore"
Período de execução:	Prorrogar a vigência do Acordo de Cooperação Técnica até 31 de outubro de 2020

Apresentação

Trata-se de cooperação entre o JBRJ e a Fundação Flora visando executar o Projeto em tela. O Terceiro Termo Aditivo tem como objetivo acrescentar £ 35.000 (trinta mil libras esterlinas) ao valor total previsto na Cláusula Terceira do instrumento original, em sintonia com os novos Memorandos de Entendimento assinados junto ao BGCI.

Justificativa

As avaliações da Lista Vermelha da Flora estão se mostrando muito importantes na elaboração de políticas e na identificação de prioridades. Sem informações de avaliação de conservação específica da espécie, as espécies de árvores correm o risco de serem negligenciadas no planejamento da conservação. Para garantir o funcionamento dos ecossistemas e que a ação de conservação seja realizada para as espécies com maior necessidade urgente, é necessário realizar uma avaliação do risco de extinção em todas as espécies arbóreas.

O Brasil é o país, em todo o mundo, que possui o maior número de espécies arbóreas. O objetivo do Projeto ora pretendido

Objetivos

- Aumentar a disponibilidade de mapas para espécies arbóreas brasileiras;
- Aumentar a disponibilidade de avaliações de conservação para espécies arbóreas brasileiras.

Project Outline

Conservation Assessment of Brazilian tree species towards the Global Tree Assessment

1. Project goal

To produce increase the conservation assessment of Brazilian tree species contributing to the Global Tree Assessments – with the aim of conservation assessments of all tree species by 2020.

2. Background

Brazil is the country worldwide that has the highest number of tree species.

The Global Tree Assessment aims to assess the conservation status of every known tree species by the year 2020. Two-thirds of all the world's trees are still lacking an assessment of extinction risk. The Global Tree Assessment will provide prioritization information to inform conservation action for trees, so that no tree species becomes extinct.

Red List assessments are proving very important in policy making and priority setting. Without species specific conservation assessment information, tree species are at risk of being neglected in conservation planning. To ensure functioning ecosystems and that conservation action is carried out for the species in most urgent need, an assessment of extinction risk across all tree species needs to be carried out.

3. Project partners and other contacts

- Rio de Janeiro Botanic Garden Research Institute
- National Center for Flora Conservation - CNCFlora
- Global Tree Specialist Group
- Botanic Gardens Conservation International

4. Project aim

The main aim with this project is to increase the availability of conservation assessments for Brazilian tree species.

5. Activities

The activities for this project are:

- a. Complete 1000 global IUCN Red List assessments of Brazilian tree species (using IUCN Categories and Criteria version 3.1, including a distribution map).
  - i. The reassessment of 100 species already published in National Red Book (2013 by CNCFlora/JBRJ), but these assessments are not on the Red List IUCN.
  - ii. Full global IUCN Red List assessments of 900 new tree species.
  - iii. The tree species to be assessed will be focused on Brazilian endemic trees, not endemic trees and included on Flora do Brasil and BGCI's GlobalTreeSearch database.
  - iv. Assessments need to be submitted (via BGCI) to IUCN via SIS or SISConnect
  - v. Distribution maps need to be delivered in csv file format (as specified by IUCN Red List mapping standards).

- b. Final report
The final report will be released as soon as all activities are concluded. It will be sent through email, in PDF format.
